Dear Neil,

As the old adage goes, we are only as good as our weakest link. There are few times when an experience is so complete and absolute, that one is left without words to express ample gratitude. With each new venture there is a “doubting Thomas” or two. Such was the case with the First Annual Celebrity-Pro-Veteran Golf Invitational.

When our idea was initially proposed we heard from individuals that it couldn't be done, the economy wouldn't support it or the idea was just plain flaky. The reality is that with all the negative comments and the general lack of initial enthusiasm from the outside, Neil Policow of LeaderBoard saw the potential and never waned from the goal of supporting the Disabled American Veteran's fundraising program. He added invaluable insight with the resolute members of the committee and provided sound and accurate advice in achieving the ultimate goal.

What was witnessed on June 29, 2009, at Granite Links Golf Club was the culmination of the committee member's determination and Neil's guidance. Can improvements be made, absolutely? Thanks to Neil, the CPV Committee members know our foundation is strongly in place, and as we move forward with the second annual event we can embellish and improve based on what we have learned. From the registration tables to the calculation and presentation of scores and pictures during the banquet, it was all first class and entertaining.

We all witnessed a man that has grace, poise and foresight and we are looking forward to another year with Neil and Leader Board with even more astounding results. On behalf of all the CPV Committee members, we salute him and LeaderBoard.
